

Messiah University Business Leaders for Tomorrow : Dual Enrollment Program

Guidelines for Experiential Learning Component

This document provides a framework for the districted experiential learning component. Many schools currently have Business Leaders for Tomorrow programs. For schools without an approved program, Messiah has provided the following framework as a useful starting guide. In some cases, school administered programs are graded credit-bearing learning opportunities for high school. Messiah University will not award college credit for these experiences, and the school has the
